

HOW TO CONVINCE

with Lawyer Vince

CORPORATE TRANSLATOR

Hi HTC Family, It's Lawyer Vince!

If you've landed here, chances are you're tired of decoding vague corporate lingo and ready to call things what they really are.

That's exactly why I created The Corporate Translator — your free cheat sheet of the top 9 most common corporate phrases and what they actually mean.

From passive-aggressive emails to masked power plays, this guide reveals the real messages behind polished workplace speak so you can stop second-guessing and start responding with clarity and confidence.

This isn't just about translation. It's about transformation. When you understand the hidden dynamics at play, you show up differently. You assert yourself without overexplaining, set boundaries without burning bridges, and stay calm in conversations meant to rattle you.

Professional doesn't mean passive. And confidence? It's not loud. It's clear, direct, and unshakable.

And now, it's yours.

I'm so happy to have you here as a part of the HTC Fam!

- Lawyer Vince

“Let’s circle back.”

1

TRANSLATION:

“I’m going to ignore this until you forget it exists.”

“Noted.”

TRANSLATION:

“I saw it. I rolled my eyes. And I’m moving on.”

2

“Per my last email...”

3

TRANSLATION:

“I already said this. Try reading.”

"Let's take this offline."

TRANSLATION:

"You're embarrassing yourself in public."

4

"Thanks in advance!"

5

TRANSLATION:

"You don't have a choice. I'm expecting this."

"Just following up"

TRANSLATION:

"You're slacking and I'm tired of babysitting you."

6

“Let’s put a pin in it.”

7

TRANSLATION:

“We’re never revisiting this. Ever.”

“Copying [Manager Name] here for visibility.”

TRANSLATION:

“Playtime’s over. Now there are consequences.”

8

“I hope this email finds you well.”

9

TRANSLATION:

“We both know I don’t care how you are — I just need something.”

Start Speaking Up Without the Sugarcoat

If you've ever thought, "I should've said something," this guide is for you.

In corporate culture, "nice" often means vague, quiet, or avoidant. But real professionalism is clear and honest.

These 9 phrases decode what people really mean—and help you respond with confidence, not just politeness.

What are your next steps?

- Share this guide! Know someone who would love this guide? Share this PDF with them!
- Want weekly, practical communication tips? You're in the right place. Every week, I send a quick, insightful email straight to your inbox. Since you've downloaded this PDF, you're already in—no extra steps needed! (And you can unsubscribe anytime.)
- Let's stay connected! Follow me on Instagram, TikTok, Facebook, and YouTube—I post regularly, so don't miss out.

Most importantly, I'm so thankful you're here and part of the HTC Fam!

– Lawyer Vince

How to find me:

@HowToConvince

Need a lawyer?

(310) 848-5054

Lawyervince@howtoconvince.me

Lawyer Vince
PERSONAL INJURY ATTORNEY